

2018 Wrath Falanghina, Ex Dolio Monterey

Tasting Notes:

Wrath owner, Michael Thomas, is an archaeologist with two excavations in Italy. The southern dig, outside Pompeii, has uncovered the first known wine importing/exporting business that was operating at the time of the Vesuvius explosion. This wine combines known Roman winemaking techniques with modern day protocols. The 2018 Ex Dolio Falanghina comes from the two rows of this ancient Campanian grape planted on our estate vineyard. It is fermented on the skins in the dolium (the modern version of an ancient clay fermenting vessel) until dry. Then racked off and placed back into the dolium for 6 months of aging. It is left naturally unfiltered and unfinned before bottling.
